LOCAL BRIEFS.

McCormick &amp; Co. received yesterday, Hanauer bullion, $2,380.

The sale of seats for Storm Beaten, Monday, begins this morning.

M. Barnes, of 253 West, Third North Street, is early in the market with fine strawberries.

The Union National Bank received yesterday, twenty bars of Alice bullion, valued at $15,340.90.

Anyone will confer a favor by leaving at this office a copy of THE DAILY HERALD for June 5, 1887.

The marriage certificate of James Smith and Mary Hansen was filed in the Probate Court yesterday.

Judge Sutherland delivers his usual law lecture at the University this morning. The subject will be "Contracts."

All Hallows college will hold its first annual commencement on June 7th in the Salt Lake Theatre. Cards of invitation will be issued in a few days.

Held's band, playing "Till Willow on Walker's corner, and a street car hurrying past, the driver vigorously ringing his bell, was a suggestive sight and sound on Main Street yesterday morning.

Priscilla Miller was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of drunk and disorderly. The offense was proven and Priscilla joined the numerous other females now behind the bars for different crimes.

The following named cricketers will go to Ogden on Monday to play the Ogden club: W. Brown, J. Platts, J. Robinson, W. Fiddins, B. Bellamy, T. Lewis, B. Wheeler, D. Bailey, S. Potts, B. Bailey and W. Green.

William Remington, the tramp who recently attempted to run a Central Pacific train, and who was only captured by the officers after a heavy fusillade, has been convicted of an assault with intent to commit murder.

Thomas H. Smart, of Union, was arrested Thursday evening on the charge of unlawful cohabitation and brought before Commissioner McKay. He acknowledged that he lived with two wives, and was placed under $1,500 bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury.

There will be a meeting of the Orphans Home and Day Nursery Association at the Nursery, 1,130 First South Street, on Saturday, May 28th, at 2 p.m. All interested in the work are cordially invited to be present. First South Street, Car passes the door. K. H. Kimball, Secretary.

As two ladies were walking in the Thirtieth Ward on Thursday night a fellow stopped them and made some scoundrelly proposals. The ladies screamed and a Mr. Ensign ran out from his house to their aid. He gave the fellow two or three polishes and a vigorous kick and let him go.

Kate Field's visit has drawn to a close and she now goes to Alaska. She took her departure amid a salute of a column of anti-Mormon stuff from the Tribune of yesterday. What would Judge Goodwin do if he were required to make an affidavit that every line of that article was written in the Tribune office?

SALT LAKE is gradually gaining considerable of the cut-flower trade formerly monopolized by California. Especially is this true as regards the spring, summer and fall months. Mr. Reading, the florist, has received and is now filling for Decoration Day, orders from Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada.

A KNIGHT of the green cloth and the business manager of the Tribune engaged in some loud expletives on the street yesterday. The knight described the character of the paper to the business manager in chaste, clean cut, graphic and stirring language that it would puzzle the editor of the paper himself to come up to.

PAT POLE was arrested on the charge of drunkenness on Thursday evening. On being brought before Justice Pyper yesterday he entered a plea of not guilty and is held for trial at 2 p.m. He evidently underwent a change of mind during the hours intervening, for at that hour he failed to appear and his bonds were declared forfeited.

THE LOYAL League appears to be as dead here as in Park City. A gentleman who was last winter one of its loudest and most eloquent "whoopers" said to a HERALD reporter yesterday, with an air of ennui, that he had been to no meetings, he knew nothing about it, and he didn't suppose any one else did.

A LARGE number of mourning and sympathizing friends attended the funeral services of little Joe Wallace at St. Mark's Cathedral yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Putnam officiated and delivered an address full of comfort to the bereaved parents. The remains were interred in Mount Olivet, and were followed to their resting place by a long line of carriages.

THERE is a general desire expressed by citizens interested in the coming Decoration Day ceremonies that the streets contiguous to the business centers and those leading to the military cemetery be thoroughly sprinkled, and thereby made much more comfortable for the many who will be abroad on that day. The work can be done at a trifling expense to the city.

At 11 seasons.

At the "Occidental" the beverages concocted, whether in the winter, spring, summer or fall, are delicious, pure and superior. Full stock of spirits, wines and fermented liquors, and choice cigars. Family trade a specialty. Acker &amp; Murphy, Proprietors.

FROM THE MINES.

The Charles Dickens People Confident.

OUTLOOK OF THE FLAGSTAFF.

Salt Lake Outbid—New Emma—Lead Bounding Upward—Other Mining Notes.

The London Financial News of May 14th is at hand, and among a budget of other mining notes, contains the following:

The following cablegram has been received from the mine manager of the Charles Dickens Mining Company: "Ore body main shaft maintains uniform richness. Cannot sink much deeper until machinery erected. Now arranging for hoisting engine, pump, pipes and boiler. Snow going fast. Shall soon make a crushing of ore."

Copy of cable sent to Mr. Treweek, May 12th:

"Order machinery as requested in report."

Mr. Treweek, manager of the Charles Dickens, was seen at his office in McCormick &amp; Co.'s bank yesterday. As soon as he had received the authority mentioned above, he said, he had made purchases of hoisting works, boiler and general supplies, at a cost of $10,000, and everything would go forward to the mine at once.

Mr. Treweek said they would have a consignment of ore at the Custer mills on or about the 5th of June. This ore would be crushed, and upon the result would depend the erection of a mill by the Charles Dickens Company. The mine was in excellent condition. The stock in London is quoted at 18 and 20 shillings per share; one pound is the par value.

EMMA AND FLAGSTAFF.

The Financial News records that new Emma is quoted in London at 7 and 8 shillings, Flagstaff at 4s. 6d.; one pound is the par value of each. Regarding the outlook for the Flagstaff, the News says: "Under date of the 23d ult. the mine manager reports: 'During the past week the work has been continued in the following places: The mineral winze is now thirty-one feet deep, the ore continuing downwards; the lode has increased during the sinking of the last eighteen feet from twelve inches to two and a half feet in width, and although this lode has been through much of the distance largely iron, the silver lead has now come in again, and it looks to me as though the mineral must undoubtedly lead into a large body of good ore. No. 2 west drift is in 190 feet, and the ground is now better than it has been for a long time. We have just come into soft ground here, and cut a seam of iron, running into the directions northeast and southwest. The northeast cross-cut is in thirty-three feet, and the ore continues. It is now more clear than ever before, and the ground is very good for the past five days. The No. 3 west drift is now in thirty-six feet, and appearances are highly promising. The secretary adds: 'The directors think it desirable to point out that the ore workings are all in the seventh level, and the mineral winze being thirty-one feet below this, the rapid increase of the volume of the ore appears a favorable indication. The hard formation in No. 2 west drift in this level, for the past two and a half months, has now given way to soft mineralized ground, and it will be remembered that this drift is heading for the deep west winze, where rich ore was formerly proved to exist, and with which winze the present drift will connect in about sixty-five feet. The locality of the improvement at these four different ore-producing points, is directly in the line of and under the old bonanzas which furnished the principal output of the mine in past times.'

A GOOD SCHEME GONE AHEAD.

F. O. Horn and James A. Lusk, of the Queen of the Hills people, with one or two other Salt Lakers, have for some time held a bond on the cozy little property which adjoins the Tip-top on the famous Canaan belt in Idaho and known as the Benson.

They ask the modest sum of $100,000 for the Tip Top, and the bond on the Benson required the holders to pay $17,500, $1,000 on June 1st and the remainder in thirty days. Mr. Horn found the time too short to make up the proposed company and he telegraphed Mr. Lusk to get an extension. Yesterday came a comfortable dispatch to the effect that it was impossible to obtain the extension, as parties there offered $5,000 better than the Salt Lakers had done.

The scheme will therefore probably "go under."

NOTES.

On Thursday lead touched $4.65, the highest figure recorded for eight months. The Little Cottonwood tramway will be running within a short time and Alta will be again added to the list of ore producers.

There is a warm fight at present going on between the miners and the smelters regarding an alleged jump in working charges. The Brooklyn and one or two other properties, say that unless they can get more favorable terms for their ores, they will be forced to shut down.

IN THE ALLEYS OF JUSTICE.

Dull Days Reigning—Yesterday's Court Proceedings.

Matters are very dull just at present around the precincts and hall ways of justice.

The petit jury is freed and the grand jury has taken a recess so long that it is equal to a permanent adjournment.

Mr. Peters remains buried in the fastnesses of Ogden and Provo; his friends here are thinking of offering a reward for him.

Mr. Dickson is once in a while encountered in the clerk's office and around the hallways. He has given himself strictly over to routine office work, and when the word Mormon is pronounced in his presence, nothing in his manner betrays that the sound is in any way familiar to him.

Marshal Dyer and Mr. Varian never speak as they pass by.

Judge Zane held a very brief session of court yesterday. He expects to go to Ogden to day to hear a motion for a new trial in a case over which he presided while Judge Henderson was running riot in this city.

The only business transacted before the Judge yesterday was as follows: J. E. Bamberger et al., vs. Joseph Marton et al. Demurrer to amended complaint overruled. Exception; and twenty days to answer.

The following foreign shoots were granted on to the tree of liberty. Jacob H. Tipton, Brigham Jensen, Hans C. Jensen, John Geddlid, Per Peterson, Heber J. Sheffield and Victor Borg.

In the case of F. A. Cornell vs. William H. Remington et al., the demurrer was argued by John R. McBride for plaintiff and C. S. Varian for defendant.

JOHN S. LINDSAY.

His Plan with Tullidge for the Production of Cromwell.

John S. Lindsay, the old-time Salt Lake actor, returned home last week from an extended absence in the east. He has been putting in all his time with his family since his arrival, and only appeared within hail of a reporter yesterday.

In answer to a number of queries, Mr. Lindsay said he had just come from Cincinnati, where he had ended a season with George C. Miln. Asked what success attended the preacher-actor, he said it had been a very disastrous season; Miln was $15,000 behind, and most of it is owing. The public won't have him under any circumstances, but he is full of pluck, and never seems to know when he is beaten.

Mr. Lindsay has a notable scheme on foot with the author, Edward W. Tullidge. The latter's play of Cromwell, which is admitted in literary circles to be a scholarly and strong historical drama, has been entirely rewritten since its production here by Sawtelle. Some years ago, and Mr. Lindsay has long had his eye on it as a play in which there was "money," indeed, he says he read it through to Miln's company, and generally was so full of praise for it that he came to be called "Cromwell" by his fellow actors. He now proposes to produce the piece here during the summer and, if it makes a "go," to take it east and secure an opening for it in Chicago and other places. Mr. Tullidge says when it was done before, he had $1,800 worth of tickets sold before the performance came off; a number of prominent citizens have promised to patronize the occasion with their presence, and the author fully expects a two nights' success for the coming production.

A Game That Didn't Win.

Some two or three individuals employed at S. S. Jones' kilns at Mill Fork, conceived the idea, a few days ago, of jumping the land on which Mr. Jones has erected property at a cost of some thousands of dollars. They had ascertained by some means that there was a slight defect in the title. They went to Salt Lake, interviewed the land office authorities for the purpose of securing the title to themselves, but they found no one that would assist them in the execution of their despicable scheme. They simply had their labor for nothing. We understand they tried to work a scheme of blackmailing on Mr. Jones, imagining they were about to secure quite a bonus by way of a compromise.—Enquirer.

BILLY BORLAND IN A NEW ROLE

The Concert at Garfield—The Opening at Lake Park—Some Good Advice—The Sunday Law.

W. C. BORLAND, once of the Union Pacific, and later of the Charles Dickens mine, has placed his talents at the disposal of the D. &amp; R. G., and is now city passenger agent for the narrow gauge. Billy's popularity will stand both him and his road in good stead.

AGREABLE to the suggestion in THE HERALD of yesterday, the Utah &amp; Nevada people announce their intention of building a platform at the corner of South Temple and Sixth West Streets, near where their road crosses the Denver &amp; Rio Grande track. This will be a great advantage to patrons of the Lake residing in the western portion of the city.

THE CONCERT to be given at Garfield on Monday, will consist of the following numbers. The brass band will be under the leadership of Mr. Anton Pederson, and Willard Weibe's well-known ability will guide the musicians in the orchestral selections in the second part:

Trains leave the Utah &amp; Nevada Railway depot at 8.10 and 10.10 a.m., 1.10 and 4.40 p.m.; returning arrive at 12.40, 3.15, 3.45 and 7.40 p.m.

SUPERINTENDENT RITER has made the following reply to an application received from a gentleman of Tooele, asking for a situation for his son on his road: "We have no vacancies for your boy, and in view of the dangers of the occupation, I would advise him to seek some other pursuit in life."

SOME of the personal effects of young Openshaw, the brakeman recently killed on the Utah &amp; Nevada, were seen at the office of that company yesterday. They consisted of a pocketbook marked and fastened with the wheels of the cars, a badly injured open-face watch, and a pocket knife.

THE GRADING of ten miles of the Drummond &amp; Phillipsburg road is already completed, and the whole will be finished, says a Montana exchange, in forty days. Owing to a delay in obtaining iron, track-laying has not yet commenced, but will be undertaken as soon as the rails can be procured. Trains will probably be running into Phillipsburg by July.

THE PAY ROLL of the Montana Union amounts to $28,000 per month.

THE MONTANA Union has a large force of men at work in the Silver Bow Canyon, straightening out the track, the contracts for which have already been let as far as the side track at McCune.

LAKE PARK will have its opening for the present season on Monday next, Decoration Day. Held's Band holds the fort on this occasion, and an immense gathering is looked for. Quite a number of improvements have been made since last season, among them 100 new bath houses, a new pavilion, etc. A new and attractive feature at the resort this season will be a number of portable cottages, similar in design and general appearance to that erected on the vacant lot between Pendleton's and the Central block, on Second South Street. The twelve muskies selected in Denver by H. S. Jones will arrive this evening, and will be seen on our streets for the first time on Monday, when they will participate in the Decoration Day ceremonies under the auspices of the Grand Army of the Republic.

THE net earnings of thirty-eight roads for the first quarter of this year are summarized by Bradstreet's, and show an increase of 23.9 per cent. over the previous year. A comparatively small number of roads report losses, but the vast majority show gains. The Pennsylvania, Reading, Chicago, Burlington &amp; Quincy, Union Pacific and seven others whose gross receipts for the quarter exceeded a million each, so that it is to a considerable degree representative. The increase in mileage of these roads is only 2.1 per cent., so that the increase in net earnings per mile (21.2 per cent.) is nearly as large as that of the absolute amount.

RAILWAYS IN NEVADA.

If there is anything in schemes, projects and talk, this coast will have before long a magnificent system of railroads. The freshest thing in the way of projects was unfolded to a Chronicle reporter yesterday by a leading railroad contractor. He said that a party of engineers was in the East making a line from Boise City, Idaho Territory, crossing the Oregon Short Line and running southward into Nevada, traversing Elko and Lander Counties in the latter State to Battle Mountain at the junction of the Central Pacific and the Nevada Central. The track of the Nevada Central would then be used to Austin, Nevada, when the line would be extended southward to Candelaria, on the Carson &amp; Colorado railroad, which would serve as a passageway into California as far as Cerro Gordo, Inyo County, from which point an extension to Mojave, there to connect with the Atlantic &amp; Pacific and Southern Pacific for Los Angeles and this city, would not be a difficult matter. By utilizing the two roads mentioned, only about 350 miles of track would have to be laid. The new line would have a great extent of territory from which local traffic could be derived, and included in this is some of the best mining country of Nevada. If such a survey is being made, it is doubtless the interest of the Union Pacific, which is seeking for an entrance into Southern California, and will not rest until it gets there.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE CONNECTICUT SUNDAY LAW.

The Connecticut law concerning Sunday railroad traffic, which goes into effect June 1, and which has heretofore been referred to, has numerous provisions not referred to in the previous summaries received, and it is, therefore reproduced below substantially in full:

SECTION 1.—No corporation, company or association operating any railroad in this State shall run any train on any road operated by it within this State, between sunrise and sunset on Sunday, except from necessity or emergency, except that before 10 o'clock and thirty minutes in the forenoon and after 5 o'clock in the afternoon it may run trains carrying the United States mail, and such other trains or classes of trains as may be authorized by the railroad commissioners, on application made to them on the ground that the same are required by the public necessity, or for the preservation of freight.

SECTION 2.—No such corporation, company or association shall permit the handling, loading or the unloading of freight on any road operated by it, or at any of its depots or stations within this State, between sunrise and sunset on Sunday, except from necessity or emergency.

SECTION 3.—Provides for a penalty of $250 for violation.

SECTION 4.—No such corporation, company or association shall transport passengers on Sunday upon any train deemed necessary according to the intent of section one of this act, for less than the highest regular fare collected on week days, and no commutation, special bargain or season or mileage ticket shall include or provide for any travel on said day, under a penalty of $50 for each violation.

It appears that no daylight trains can be run on Sunday without official permission. As nearly or quite all the Sunday passenger trains, however, are engaged in inter-state traffic, it would not be surprising to see the roads take the line behind the recent court decisions (that state laws cannot be made affecting such traffic), and continue their Sunday trains without observing the formality of asking leave of the commission.

Surveyor Hesse has surveyed the line of the Idaho Central from Nampa to Boise. The distance is eighteen and three-fourth miles. The contract for building the road has been let, and will be completed by the 1st of July. Nampa is, by Hesse's survey, 276 feet lower than Boise. The railroad will have a grade of a little over fourteen feet to the mile.—Boise Republican.

THE CELEBRATION.

The Question of the Fourth Before the City Council.

The City Council met last evening at 7 o'clock. The Mayor arose to make a personal explanation. He had observed in the newspapers, he said, that at a meeting of citizens held at the Federal Court House, Monday evening, for the purpose of arranging the preliminaries of a Fourth of July celebration, he was quoted as being favorable to the project, and as saying that the City Council would meet on Friday evening for the purpose of considering the matter. He desired to say that upon being approached on Wednesday evening as to his ideas of a celebration, he had said that at present he would neither favor nor oppose the project, but that at a meeting of the City Council would be held on Friday evening, their ideas could be obtained at that time.

The bill for "an ordinance in relation to passenger vehicles" was taken up and its first and second readings passed.

During the consideration of the ordinance, Messrs. George Arbogast, Jacob Moritz and A. E. Hyde, a committee appointed by citizens to importune the City Council to take the initiative in a celebration of the coming Fourth of July, entered the Council Chamber, and, by permission, each briefly addressed the assembly in reference to the celebration.

They had made a thorough canvass of the business men of the city, and had met with a general favorable sentiment to the holding of a good old-fashioned celebration—some where there would be no political burrains, no trumping up of local differences, or anything of an unpleasant nature, but an occasion when all parties and creeds could unite in their exhibitions of patriotism. Mr. Hyde stated that in the past Fourth of July celebrations had been confined to the smaller towns outside of the city. He thought it would only be fitting now if the capital showed that there was as much patriotism and loyalty here as in Ogden and Provo.

On motion the subject was referred to a special committee composed of the five aldermen, Messrs. Riter, Cope, Pyper, Patrick and Webber, with instructions to report at the meeting, Tuesday night.

The Council then adjourned.

A GENUINE SURPRISE PARTY.

The Raid by the Police on a Main Street Establishment.

SITUATED on Main Street, between First and Second South, is a small, unpretentious and innocent-looking one-story building, in which the chief goods kept on sale are cigars and tobacco. Notwithstanding this outward showing, however, the police have for some time been casting their eyes in that direction, and after due deliberation came to the conclusion that a gay and festive animal was caged in a small room, located upstairs in the rear of the establishment, access to which was gained by a pair of very narrow stairs. The tall, slender young man in charge of the place was considered as abashed yesterday at the entrance of five members of the police force, who calmly inquired for the proprietor.

"He is not in," was the polite and dignified reply. While this conversation was going on others of the force were suddenly seized with an intense interest in the pictures and placards adorning the walls, and gradually edged, in a very innocent manner, towards the door leading to the stairs above mentioned.

Then it was that the young man in charge "tumbled" to the little conspiracy, and with a shout that almost tore one lung from its moorings he warned some mysterious and unseen individuals to "look out up there!" At this second, two officers made a dash for the door, one of them was grabbed by the young man, but the latter was easily shaken off, and turned over to the other officials. Up went the officers, and in a few seconds there was a sound as of a troop of cavalry turned loose. By the time the police entered the room one young blonde had disappeared through the window onto an adjoining roof, and all that was visible of a roland gentleman who was attempting to "follow suit," was a pair of magnificent brogans, and well-developed legs. Seizing these, the remainder of the person was pulled back into the room, although at the imminent risk of dislocating the arms of the officers. Five or six of the inmates were then placed under arrest, and a number of poker chips and other gambling paraphernalia were taken along.

In the afternoon, after considerable waiting, the defendants were released on bonds to appear for trial on Tuesday next.

It is understood the gentlemen claimed they were merely playing "old maid" for the cigars, but the police are willing to swear that "stud-horse poker" is the proper name for it.

THE LATEST GOSPEL.

The Salvation Army Invades Salt Lake.

We are all to be saved. Eight of the advance guard of General Booth's Salvation Army have arrived in town, fresh from the work of reclaiming souls of sinners in Los Angeles and other hot beds of Satan on the Pacific Coast.

Two of the advance guard were rustling about town yesterday, with Rev. Mr. McNiece, attempting to find a hall in which to sound the sinners' grand rally. They looked at the cellar under the Union Pacific, the Gymnasium and the Liberal Institute, and at last accounts had nearly settled on beating the tattoo in the last-named quarters. Let them come on. They can do no harm and possibly they can do some good.

Making a circus of the gospel is something novel in Salt Lake, and for a few nights it ought to draw well.

Mr. Kimball's Death.

The only intelligence received yesterday regarding the death of Jeremiah H. Kimball, was the following dispatch from J. E. Lockwood, general passenger and ticket agent of the Kansas City, Fort Scott &amp; Gulf Railroad, to Mr. Bennett, of D. &amp; R. G. W., dated the 26th:

I regret to advise you that Elder Kimball died about
